

2024 DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD FREDERICK E. HUBLER '96

Frederick E. Hubler is an accomplished entrepreneur with more than 20 years of experience in financial services. In 2003, he founded Creative Capital Wealth Management Group (CCWMG), a nationally recognized wealth management firm. CCWMG has been providing clients with access to vetted, accredited investments for more than 20 years and in more than 30 states and features a trademarked retainer-based wealth management program. CCWMG's long relationships with some of the most recognized alternative investment sponsors allows clients to access small and less promoted alternative investments typically not found in most advisory firms.

Hubler has shared his expertise on the economy and stock market both locally and nationally. He has been featured in The Wall Street Journal, U.S. News & World Report, TD Ameritrade, and on podcasts, traditional, and digital media. He is also a contributor to Forbes.com.

An innovative leader with a keen eye for unique solutions and vast knowledge in alternative wealth creation strategies, Hubler believes in giving back. He has served as president of the Phoenixville Regional Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club of Phoenixville, Kiwanis Club of Phoenixville, and most recently as board chair for Phoenixville Area Community Services (PACS). He recognized the need for PACS to fine tune its mission so it could better help the people of his community. Since leading the charge to encourage PACS to focus on food insecurity and under his guidance, the agency has hired a new president, created new jobs, expanded the physical footprint (from 3,600 square feet to 23,700 square feet), and helped feed more than 300,000 people since the beginning of the pandemic.

Hubler is married to Elizabeth, a 2002 WCU graduate, and has 12-year-old twins, Abby and James. His hobbies include technology, cigars, Eagles football, and cars.
